NATION MUST BE ONE UNIT, BOARD URGED

Spokesman of Youth Council Addresses Royal Commission

By CARL REINKE

Canadian Press (Winnipeg)—The Youth Council of Canada is to progress and become one united nation the provinces will have to give up some of their legislative jurisdiction over matters of common concern to the whole nation.

James Cowan, spokesman for the Greater Winnipeg Youth Council, contended before the Royal Commission on Dominion-provincial relations Tuesday.

"No longer are labor and industrial conditions and the welfare of the people matters which affect the local community alone," he said. "We believe administration of matters of national importance should be centralized."

CANADA ONE UNIT

"The time has come when steps should be taken to make Canada one unit instead of 10. We believe in the sacrifice of provincial rights when the welfare of the Canadian people is at stake."

The Canadian people should not be made to conform with the British North America Act, he said. It should be made to conform with their wishes.

No group in Canada would be more interested in the commission's report than the young people here.

Bill Provides Penalties If Organization Curbed

ACT PLANS TO SETTLE LABOR DIFFERENCES

Right of Employers and Employees To Organize Is Recognized

VICTORIA, Dec. 8.—A bill which would make it unlawful for any employer to seek to restrain his employees from organizing has been introduced in the British Columbia legislature today by George S. Pearson, minister of labor.

The bill, named the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration act, would recognize the right of employers and employees to "organize for any lawful purpose," and require that any organization shall file with the labor minister details of its object and purposes and the names of its officers.

The new legislation sets out as an offence any effort to compel any person to join or refrain from joining any organization, or to refrain from becoming a member of any association. A maximum penalty of $500 is provided for such a breach.

Any interference with the right of an employer to suspend, transfer, lay off or discharge employees for "proper and sufficient cause" is not interfered with by the bill.

When a dispute arises between an employer and a group of employees, the minister may be made to the minister for appointment of a conciliation commission.

Upon appointment of a commission, the minister may refer the dispute to the arbitrator.

If the arbitrator, who must endeavor to settle disputes, remove causes of friction and promote good feeling, or to bring about a settlement of the dispute, he may be empowered to appoint a chairman of the board.

The arbitrator committee would be empowered to summon any witnesses and require them to produce all documents relating to the dispute. The board would be given the same powers as a justice of the peace.

The board could call for such evidence as is in equity and good conscience in the dispute, or in the strict legal or not.

Any person authorized by any time to enter any building, mine, workshop, or premises of any kind, where work is carried on, for the purpose of inspecting the equipment and question any persons there. Any person who hindered or obstructed the board or its authorized officer or who refused to answer any question would be liable to a penalty not exceeding $100.

MAJORITY DECISION
The decision of the majority of the board members shall be the decision of the board, and the findings and recommendations of the majority of its members shall be those of the board.

The board's award may be accepted or rejected by either party to the dispute after the question of acceptance or rejection has been submitted to a separate vote by the employees and employers.

A strike by employees is prohibited by employees within 14 days after rejection of the award, or if the decision would be prohibited.

After his period the workers are intended or desired change after conditions of employment with respect to wages or hours, or in a dispute, no employer shall refuse to accept or reject the award in wages or hours, nor shall employees go on strike, prior to an application for arbitration.

No proceedings under the proposed act would be invalidated by any defect of form or technical irregularity.

SMOKERS ADD NEW HORRORS TO SPAIN WAR

BARCELONA, Dec. 8.—The war in Spain, as viewed by the war of his favorite tobacco, has taken a strange assortment of substitutes.

The "tobacco" that goes into some cigarettes—you could melt them yards away—includes corn, bean fibre, sals, paper, corn, potato leaves, tree leaves, and such miscellaneous herbs.

A day crowd sitting in a sale was turned into a heap of debris—debris and maimed as a bomb crashed through the roof. Buildings lining nearby streets were toppled by air-splashing explosions. Many of the casualties were pedestrians.

Unhindered by anti-aircraft shells and a fire of government snipers, the men finally went about and flew over surrounding towns and villages, dropping their explosive shrillity with terrible efficiency.

SPAIN PLANES BOMB REBELS AT MALLORCA

Government Reports Successful Raid on Insurgent Base

MADRID, Dec. 8.—Heavy toll of dead and injured was reported today as the result of successful bombing of Barcelona and other coastal towns while equally heavy damage was done to government plane fields on Palma, insurgent base.

MADRID, Dec. 8.—A successful raid by government planes on the island of Mallorca, insurgent base and one of the most important coastal, was announced today by the Spanish government.

A day crowd sitting in a sale was turned into a heap of debris—debris and maimed as a bomb crashed through the roof. Buildings lining nearby streets were toppled by air-splashing explosions. Many of the casualties were pedestrians.

Unhindered by anti-aircraft shells and a fire of government snipers, the men finally went about and flew over surrounding towns and villages, dropping their explosive shrillity with terrible

Quiet Explorers On Ice Floe Ready For Rescue

CAMP DRIFTS 745 MILES IN POLAR OCEAN

Scientists May Be Removed From Ice by Airplane

In January

MOSCOW, Dec. 8.—Four Soviet explorers drifting from the North Pole toward the Atlantic indicated Tuesday they were ready to be rescued as their ice floe approached possible danger.

In the 50 days since they landed on the top of the world, the campers have floated 745 miles and today reached the position 62.23 degrees north and 6.32 degrees west of northeast Greenland.

Otto Schmidt, bearded chief of the Soviet Arctic venture, has indicated the men may be taken off the ice in January, when it is estimated they will have reached a point between Greenland and Spitzbergen.

WONT BE ASHAMED
Ivan Papanin, chief of the camp, reported today by wireless that the campers "won't be ashamed to return to the mainland since we have collected much valuable data."

His companions are Peter Shirshov, marine biologist, Eugene Fedoroff, magnetologist, and Ernest Krenkel, wireless operator. They are engaged in scientific studies in the polar region.

They landed at the pole from an airplane May 21 with nine tons of supplies and Papanin told they expected to be rescued by airplane, instead of by boat.

"When planes come to get us," he said, "we probably will ask the pilots to wait a day longer in order to finish our explorations."

FLOE ROTATES
Fedoroff has had to suspend measurement of magnetic variations, as the campers' floe rotates or even diverges.

Krenkel meanwhile has rigged up a spare wireless set on a sled and said a sudden ice jam should force the explorers to move their camp hastily.

Recently when a strong wind generated enough energy for his hand-powered wireless station for a detailed account of their life, Krenkel reported:

"The last strong wind caused wide fissures and formed new piles of pack ice."

SPARKING LIKE GEMS
"Our camp can be seen from a distance of 10 to 15 miles (32-50 feet). The ice-built observatory of Eugene Fedoroff sparkles like a jewel among the icebergs. The lighted torches are slight-fleets in making observations."

"Around the camp is a wide passageway. It is not particularly pleasant here during the winter. The fine snow penetrates even the thickest clothing."

"Our hut is like a cake with lots of icing."

"In the middle of the vast expanse of the Arctic, our dwelling is confined to three square metres (32 square feet). That is all that remains after disposing our things."

"The table of the transmitting station is at the right-hand corner. At the left is a box on which we call our buffet."

"On the floor are Shirkoff's boxes with samples of Arctic snow water and on them several soil-covered pots containing our simple dinner. Cots take up the walls from end to end."

SHAKY TABLE
"Between the beds is a shaky table used as a laboratory. A piece of tin is supported above the table to protect the roof from the heat of the lamp."

"During the day the lamps are in the middle of room and we arrange ourselves around them, like fire worshippers."

"The small amount of wall space that is free is covered with weapons, torches and bundles of food."

Soviet Polar Camp Reported in Danger As Ice Floe Moves

Wireless report from the Soviet Arctic camp near the North Pole to Soviet authorities in Moscow, indicates that four Russian scientists in is peril because of drifting ice according to London sources which reported picking up the message. The party, living in the shadow of the pole since May, is on an ice floe which has rapidly drifted 800 miles from the pole towards Greenland. The men who landed on ice hoped to live in this territory for the next 30 years, the young men with higher standards.

15 miles beyond the pole are living in tents, and the camp is shown in the upper photograph. In the lower center is a map showing the Arctic area with an arrow indicating the direction in which they are reported to be drifting. Leader of the scientific group is Ivan Papanin (left). Radio operator Ernest Krenkel is shown next to Papanin with Peter Shirshov, hydro-biologist, and Eugene Fedoroff, magnetologist at the right.

NATION MUST BE ONE UNIT, BOARD URGED

UNIFORM LABOR LAWS
The youth council, representing 80 Winnipeg youth groups, recommended amendment of the B.N.A. Act to secure uniform labor laws throughout the country, with regard to geographical and economic differences.

Widely varied wages and hours in different sections of the nation cause unfair competition, employers and employees in provinces with higher standards.

It recommended constitutional amendments to give the Dominion complete control over trade, commerce, companies legislation, administration of agriculture, and, as the most efficient and economical way of dealing with such national matters.

HEALTH PROGRAM
It urged government provision for a national recreation and health program, similar to that recently adopted in the United Kingdom, national pension scheme, a national housing scheme financed with low interest money from the government, tariff and freight rate equalization, and a national health program.

While education should be administered by local governments, the council suggested it should be financed by the Dominion, so that the standard of education available to Canadian children should not be dependent on economic conditions of the district in which they live.

CHARITABILITY
Chairman N. W. Howell observed the inadvisability of the Dominion adopting education without being able to have a voice in its administration, which it could not.

He pointed out the public debt of Canada had increased by $800,000 in the last six years, suggesting the Dominion was "steadily moving toward the position of some provinces unless a halt is called."

Mr. George Dyson, chairman of the board of directors, and Sydney E. Smith, president, of the University of Manitoba, presented the case for substantially increased legislative grants to the university. Since 1930, the government had cut its grants to the university by 50 per cent.

He pointed out that, after the university's finances had been disorganized by discovery of defalcations of $900,000 in 1932 by a former bursar.

SALARIES CUT
With grants cut from $500,000 to $250,000 in 1930, it was difficult even to maintain a library and laboratory equipment. Salaries had been cut, full professors now receiving a maximum of $5,000.

President Smith said the "academic market was on the rise" in Manitoba could not expect to retain or attract first class men without a substantial grant, which case the university would be classified as a glorified high school.

The president suggested the National Research Council might make grants to various universities to conduct research in the various fields of the west. The council was empowered to aid research in social sciences, but never had.

Manitoba School Controversy Squelched
WINNIPEG, Dec. 8.—The "Manitoba school question," in controversy for the past 40 years, was raised before the Howell commission today by a statement that Dominion-wide repercussions might follow if it were ignored.

Only Support of Family Keeps Them With Relief

MONTREAL, Dec. 8.—The defence lawyer was explaining to Judge E. T. Bennett why he thought Lionel Poiras should be allowed out on bail until his trial.

"You see, judge," the brother-in-law explained, "he can't go down and collect his relief money when he's in jail."

It turned out that if Lionel can raise $800 he will be able to collect his relief. With Lionel Charbonneau and Alfred Dubé he charged with the theft of $18 from Harry Tarbell.

The presentation, made "on behalf of the Catholic minority of the province of Manitoba," asked the Dominion to recommend that the province be granted the same status regarding maintenance of Catholic schools as existed in Saskatchewan.

Manitoba's economic difficulties could not be settled satisfactorily as long as a large section of the population are discriminated against in this way," he said.

The chairman asked hundreds of individuals were equally concerned with their own finances. Then you might ignore it," Mr. Russell concluded.

CONSTANT DRAIN
"The improper subtraction of the Catholic population to this constant drain on their financial resources is something we suggest, which must be considered by you in your enquiry into the financial relations between the provinces and Dominion."

"If you ignore it we shall certainly be disappointed and we are presenting this to you because we would like to avoid this and at the same time do what we can to ensure equal economic conditions for all classes of people who make up the population of the province."

REMARKS DELETED
Dr. Russell hesitated. "I think certainly it," he said, "but I cannot suggest we withdraw those words," Dr. Russell said, referring to the sentence beginning "If you ignore it," he said.

"I say delete them," Mr. Russell replied. Chairman N. W. Howell: "Then you desire to delete them."

"Oh, yes," Mr. Russell said, "I didn't think it would be taken that way."

"I did take it that way," Dr. Russell put it.

Chairman Russell proceeded to send the request made in petition to the school board, which exists in Saskatchewan and a proportionately large of any grant by the Dominion for educational purposes.

Mr. Russell agreed that was a correct interpretation of the petition. "In connection with the first one," he said, "I do not think it is our function to consider matters wholly within the province. On the other point, as I pointed out to the Winnipeg school district earlier, it is our function to refer to the Dominion what we make any educational grants."

GIVEN INTERRUPTION
"It does not seem to promote peace within a province if an outside body suggests what you should do. I do not think it is our function to give any opinion on the merits of your proposal to refer to the Dominion what we make any educational grants."

Mr. Russell felt the financial difficulties of the Catholic school of the population, the urgency of

CAPE ELECTIONS TAKE ON WEIGHT

CAPE TOWN, Dec. 8.—Since a "bush-burn" amending ordinance went through the provincial council, making the "illegal practices" restrictions apply to municipal as well as parliamentary elections, city councillors have been congratulating themselves that their campaigns have assumed more importance.

Municipal reports in the newspapers now are signed by the journalists who write them.

Roads Dangerous
CLIVE, Dec. 8.—A strong wind has driven the snow off the roads, and a slight rain fell Sunday which made them dangerously slippery.

INTEREST PROMISE ALLEGED
Mr. Carlton converted provincial savings certificates into cash interest on the money as Mr. Rowley and promised the same rate on the money as that paid by the provincial government. He said the money was not yet received.

Mr. Rowley said he had started to work in 1931. He said that he had been working for him to get his old age pension.

company would be able to meet all miners' wage claims.

Asked by Mackie why he exempted the company from carrying a bond in 1932 when a statement filed with him showed the company had debts totaling approximately $100,000 and only $1,800 to meet them," Mr. Freeman said, "he had the assurance of Hector Cowan, K.C., that a mortgage of $12,500 had been completed and money from this source would be available to pay miners' wage claims."

In 1933 when this question was again before the court, Mr. Freeman said, it was referred to the Mines Branch and a letter sent to the management of Beverly Limited giving the company a stipulated period in which to clear up its affairs or face the consequences.

HOSPITAL BILLS PRESSED
Mr. Freeman said that at the time during his association with Beverly town council did he tell any official that unemployment relief should not be included in the town's accounts. He also stated he was after the town council's decision to endeavor to straighten out Mr. McKinnon's affairs owing to Edmonstone hospital.

Frank Carlton, 25 year resident of Beverly, said the commission had lost $1,800 in the Beverly limited crash. He had promised one share in 1931 and later took one share in 1932. He had promised one share to recover in full on a $2,300 note made to P. J. Rowe, M.P. for Athabasca and former secretary-treasurer of the town.

Of the 1931, Mr. Carlton said $1,000 had been repaid by Mr. Rowe. Mr. McKinnon had a balance of approximately $60 principal and interest.

RUFFY, POPULAR POLICE DOG IS SEARCH OBJECT

VANCOUVER, Dec. 8.—Ruffy, a Doberman-Pinscher dog who has aided Vancouver police in tracking down missing persons, was the object of a city-wide search Tuesday night.

A general police appeal was broadcast when Ruffy was missed from the home of his master, E. C. McKinnon, chauffeur to Chief Constable W. W. Foster.

The dog was given to the Vancouver police department by Austin Taylor, Vancouver apartment manager.

into Ruffy's character, he said, and this evidence does not appear to have the slightest bearing on the case. He said the dog was not a search object.

H. McCann, K.C. commission counsel, said he considered it irrelevant as it showed the witness was drawing old age pension which undoubtedly affected Ruffy's finances to some extent.

A note pressed by Mr. McCann and given by Mr. Rowe to Mr. Carlton was signed by Rowe as president of Beverly Limited, the other signer of the note being P. J. Rowe, M.P. for Athabasca and former secretary-treasurer of the town.

Mr. McKinnon's financial affairs were not included in the town's accounts. He also stated he was after the town council's decision to endeavor to straighten out Mr. McKinnon's affairs owing to Edmonstone hospital.

FRANCIS ACLAND PREDICTS DEATH CHURCH ENGLAND

LONDON, Dec. 8.—Sir Francis Acland, Liberal member of parliament, Tuesday predicted the eventual "death" of the Church of England in a letter announcing his resignation and accepting a peerage in a letter announcing his resignation and accepting a peerage.

Quaker faith as a protest against the church's "refusal" to adopt a modern spirit of religious freedom.

The member for North Cornwall who served as financial secretary to the War Office and a member of the Army Council from 1908 to 1911, addressed his letter to the Archbishop of Canterbury. It said the church is at present no longer really based on religious freedom and therefore has been able to refuse its consecration to the widows of divorced persons.

Sir Francis added present legislation makes it difficult to distinguish the "guilty" and "innocent" parties in a divorce action. "In spite of this new divorce act," he wrote, "the church in every way at present possible today has tightened up its rules that the clergy are not to marry even the innocent party."

Japs Ask Aid Stop Boycott
VICTORIA, Dec. 8.—A Victoria Chamber of Commerce on Monday received a request from the Japanese Chamber of Commerce and Industry of Japan to try to stop any boycott movement against Japanese goods.

A cable signed by "Kobun" president of the Chamber of Commerce and Industry of Japan, "asked the Victoria Chamber, to see what you can do to stop such movement for the sake of friendship and future relations between our two countries."

No Suggestion of Diverting Tonies Held For Interest

Hon. Solon Low, Provincial Treasurer, Comments on Circular Sent Out by Edmonton Bond Firm

Because the provincial government of the day is in no financial straits, there has been no suggestion of diverting the accumulation of money to pay interest to bondholders from the purpose for which that money was set aside, Hon. Solon E. Low, provincial treasurer, declared here Wednesday.

The minister's statement was made in a circular letter sent out by the Edmonton bond firm of George, Hunt and Company in which the firm urged its clients to cash coupons on Alberta bonds held even at the reduced rate of interest as the provincial government is being able to borrow, might divert the "40,000" not set aside for this purpose, to its own use.

Asked to comment on this letter, Mr. Low said:

"In the first place, $40,000.00 is a very long way over the mark; but there has been no accumulation of course. No one has ever so much as paid interest on the bonds. The fund may be diverted, provided because a means. Hunt point out that the Alberta government is in no financial straits."

MAJOR FRY TO SWITCH ON
Decorative Lighting
System at 7 P.M.

Decorative lighting system will be turned on Saturday night when the city's new $4,000 decorative lighting system is officially switched on by Mayor Fry.

The ceremony will take place on the balcony of the hotel, Jasper, at 101 street, at 7 p.m. Saturday when the mayor will switch on the two-mile string of colored lights.

This permanent installation was tested Wednesday morning and Saturday's ceremony. Wires festooned with colored globes have been strung across Jasper from The Bulletin office to 101 street and along 101 street from Macdonald Drive to the C.N.R. where there are approximately 3,000 lights in all.

The permanent lighting system cost $4,000, including Christmas decorations along the main business streets, including Christmas trees and cardboard decorations.

The total cost of the decorative program is about $10,000. Merchants have contributed approximately 50 per cent of the cost of the light being borne by the city.

"I think this credit government will pay high rates of interest until we have a credit government. I cannot—then no other government is ever going to do so."

"Therefore, the advice given by Messrs. Hunt, should be considered. But if it is not, we will see whether big or small, will by their acceptance of the advice given of interest we have stipulated from now onward and parties will have to live with it."

CANADA POST IS PLEASING TO DAMPIERRE

Minister Tells Of Inherent Solidarity Of French People

OTTAWA, Dec. 8.—Relations between Britain and France have never been better since the Great War, Count Dampierre declared here Tuesday on arriving to take up his new duties as minister to Canada from the French republic.

Coming to Canada, the minister said, was a particular pleasure to him because he "knew I would find only friends of France." He has recently been French minister to Yugoslavia, stationed at Belgrade when he left in October.

He would not forecast what might happen in Europe, Count Dampierre said. In France, he said, there were "crises" as there were in other countries, and occasional violent outbreaks.

AS ONE PERSON
"But when it comes to great questions," he added, "France speaks as one person." There has been ample evidence of this inherent solidarity of the French people, the minister said.

Arriving at noon from New York, where he landed Monday after a quick journey from Paris, Count Dampierre was greeted by representatives of the Government, the Canadian Government and the diplomatic circle.

The Countess of Dampierre, a striking woman of French origin and a recognized poet, received the minister at the airport. She is the wife of the recipient of two bouquets from representatives of the French press as she stepped from the train.

The count, 49 years old, is a horseman and a former French army officer. His previous diplomatic posts included two years in Japan, where he left in 1935. He had never before visited Canada.

BRIEF INTERVIEW
Soon after taking up quarters in the Chancery of the French legation, the minister was interviewed by the press. He said he hoped to improve trade relations between his country and Canada, and to further cement existing good relations.

Count Dampierre said he was pleased by the proposed trade agreement between the United Kingdom and United States.

A nominations committee was struck last week and made available.

Reg. Jackson, director of Siam Imperial Airways, gave an illustrated lecture on the work of the Airways Commission, which is now in the process of preparing transportation facilities and difficulties.

He said the many varied phases of the work of the commission.

More than 200 attended the meeting.

RED CROSS TO DRIVE FOR FOOD, BEDDING AND CLOTHING WILL BE UNDERTAKEN

"If the terrible situation in the south of the province is to be relieved, the people in Alberta will have to get behind the Red Cross here," Lt.-Col. H. Tomlinson, M.B.E., V.D., commissioner of the Alberta division of the Canadian Red Cross, said today. "Last year we had financial help from the eastern provinces to the extent of $380,000, but no help can be given us now," he said. "We must get busy ourselves."

The plight of the people in the south is pitiful. They use sacks made together for bedclothes, and the children have no overcoats. We are using most of the money we have on hand for overcoats for children from the age of 8 to 14 years. We have no help for the sleeping children's feet dry as one of the first laws of health," Col. Tomlinson said.

Members of the Massey order have undertaken to collect clothing to aid the Red Cross in its work here, and shipping of it will commence before Christmas.

Edmonton executive is behind a plan of entering a campaign around the birthday of Florence Nightingale, May 12, which was suggested at the Thursday meeting by Col. Tomlinson.

Another scheme which has been in mind was also explained to the members of the Red Cross. If for one day, every person would donate the odd cents of their bank notes to the Red Cross, the proceeds would put us on easy street," Col. Tomlinson explained. "Just take your idea of what that would mean to us. I might say that in one bank in the city there is $1,000,000 in bank notes. If the odd cents of that were deposited with the Red Cross, for one day, in only one month, it would total over $3,000."

REDDING, CLOTHING NEEDED
The Red Cross division in Alberta has been asked to maintain a list of the clothing and food items needed in the province, because the people in the south are suffering from lack of food and clothing. The Red Cross is now in the process of collecting clothing and food items for the people in the south.

GENE TUNNEY CHOOSES MAXIE AS CHAMPION

SUMMIT, N.J., Dec. 8.—Gene Tunney came out from behind his favorite double shirt of Shakspeare and predicted Max Schmeling would win his heavy-weight championship back from Joe Louis next June by a knockout.

Gene, who retired undefeated to his books and travel years ago, was mightily impressed by German Max's form as he worked out with Maxine Breyer's training camp for his bout at the Garden next Monday night with Harry Thomas of Chicago and Minnesota.

"He could knock out Louis tomorrow," he declared after watching Schmeling mail two sparring partners. "Louis is out of shape. There's Max there has the greatest fight I ever saw on a heavyweight. There's no reason why Max shouldn't be the first man to win the title back, even if he is 32."

Tunney continued, "Bob Fitzsimmons won the championship at 35, and I hadn't reached my peak when I retired at 30. I'm sure of it, because I was better in my peak than against Tom Heeney than in any other."

Habitants Outscore Big Red Squad, 5-1 With Early Splurge

MONTREAL, Dec. 8.—Canadians scored three quick goals in the first period and stayed sound hockey the rest of the way last night to defeat Maroons 5-1 as the bitter Montreal hockey feud was renewed. By winning, the Habitants stepped over New York Americans into a first place tie with Toronto Maple Leafs in the Canadian division of the National League.

The victory, marked by high cheering and constant hooting, levelled the series for the city title, in which Maroons were the upper dog. Only the third Canadian goal last night was scored while both sides were at full strength.

Rube Siber, Pat Haynes and George Marcano poured in counters in the first, and Walter Burwell and George Marcano completed the Canadian tally in the third. Marcano's goal was the first in the big league for the red squad.

The last two Detroit battles were rained in white. Eddie Shore was in the penalty box. The Boston defense drove a
